DRIVE LAST SPIKE AT WELLSVILLE CONNECTING CACHE AND BOX ELDER

Construction Gang Complete Laying of Steel From Honeyville Into This Valley. First Train Over the New Road Pulled Into Logan Yesterday Afternoon With Workmen's Tools

The steel rails are now down between Preston and Honeyville on the interurban track of the Ogden, Logan and Idaho Railway Company the last spike connecting up the extension from Box Elder county to Wellsville having been driven at noon yesterday. Manager Robert Anderson and other Logan citizens went to Wellsville yesterday morning to see the connecting link made and the Wellsville citizens were out in numbers to watch the work of splicing up the large steel rails which eventually will give this valley an outlet to Ogden and Salt Lake that will shorten the running time nearly one hour and will give a two hour passenger service.

There were about two hundred workmen on the job at the time the last spike was driven which made the connection and all stood about watching the work progress as the little brown men with mallet and chisel in hand cut the heavy steel rails to make the last joint fit snugly up to the old track. Before the day closed yesterday, the spur near the Wellsville station and as soon as the wires are strung, the electric cars will make their stop at the new station which is now ready for occupancy.

The construction gang was divided yesterday, some of the men being transferred to Logan to assist with the work of laying track through the fields to Hyde Park and the others were sent back to Honeyville, and will continue with the work of laying steel toward Brigham City a distance of nine miles. This work completed, and the connecting link will then be made which makes the electric road complete to the state capital and at the present time there seems to be little question but the interurban officials will make good their prediction that they will be able to carry the October conference passengers to and from Salt Lake.

J. CONRAD ODELL NOMINATED FOR WEST POINT

Son of Postmaster Odell and Student of U. A. C. to Become Cadet at U. S. Military Academy

Congressman Joseph Howell has nominated Joseph Conrad Odell a student of the Agricultural College, for appointment from the First Congressional District of Utah, as a cadet of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. Conrad is a son of Postmaster Odell of Logan, and this summer he attended and successfully completed the course of instruction at the Students Military Instruction Camp, held under the auspices of the War Department of the U. S. at Presidio, San Francisco, and was recommended for commission as Second Lieutenant Volunteer Infantry.

THE WELLSVILLE BALL TEAM WINS ANOTHER GAME

Wellsville, Aug. 30.—The Wellsville baseball team added another game to its long list of baseball victories on Saturday by defeating the All Star Salt Lake team at Wellsville by the score of 12 to 11. Darley and Shaw were the battery for Wellsville. Gillburg pitched the game for Salt Lake.

Wellsville is now ready to take on a game at Logan. Why not arrange a game for fair week? We will play local men or we will bring over professionals, just as the Logan fans desire, but we would like to get at those conceited baseball fans over in the county seat.

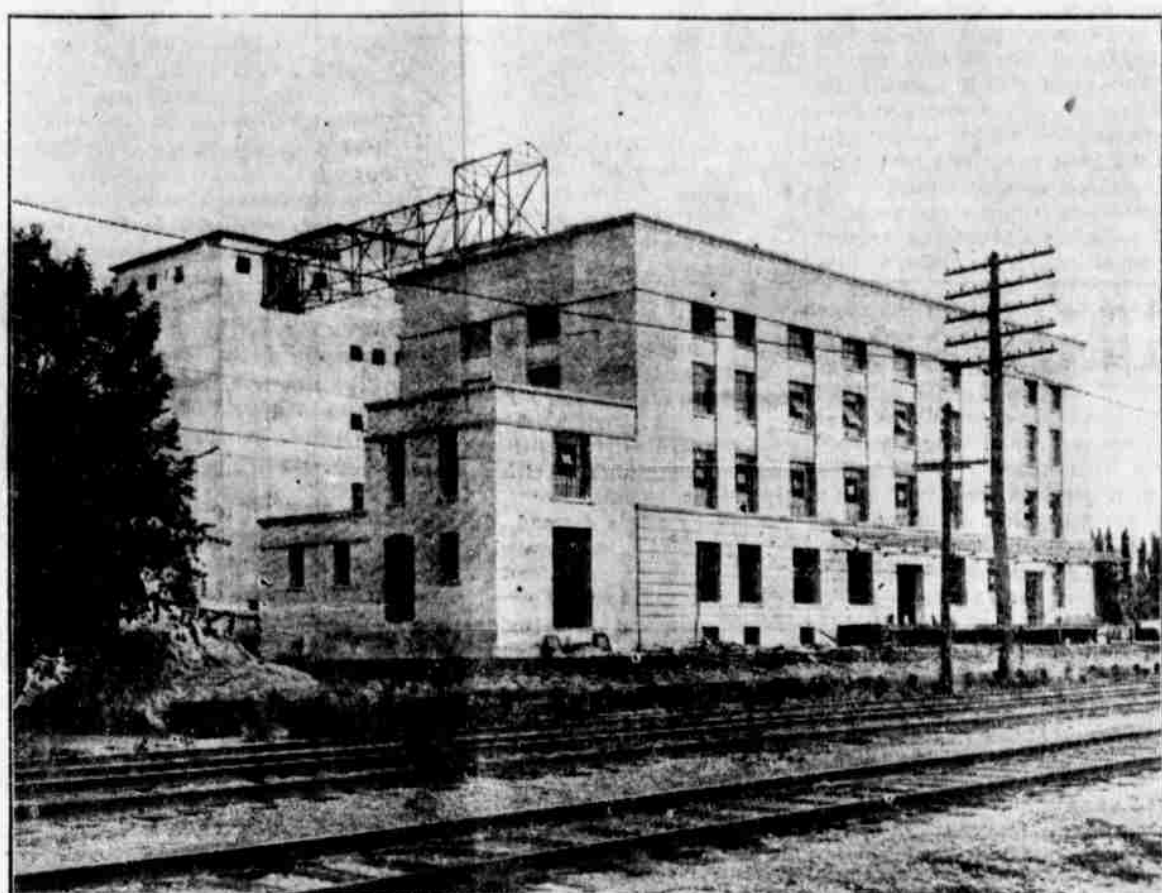

John Hill is arranging to send his cattle to Montana where he has purchased a cattle ranch and where he expects to go in the spring to make his future home.

Work is progressing nicely on the sidewalk. Leroy Hill the contractor has the gravel for the full two miles of concrete walk on the grounds and has begun to do the grading. He will begin about Thursday to lay the concrete and expects to lay a block a day until the job is completed. He has twenty-eight men and as many teams working for him at the present time.

Brigham Maughan, Frank O. Gunnell, and John A. Brown and their families are preparing to leave to spend Labor Day at the new Ideal Resort at Garden City, Rich county.

A. G. Lundstrom furniture merchant and farmer, is back from his dry farm in Curlew Valley where he has just completed the thrashing of 5000 bushels of dry farm grain on his farm at that place. He says the spring grain did not mature but he harvested a fair crop of fall wheat considering the dryness of the season. Mr. Lundstrom has binned his wheat and expects to hold for a better price. He is confident that wheat will hit the dollar mark before spring.

Home of Utah Cereal Food Company at Ogden

The above cut is of the new plant of the Utah Cereal Food Company, which is now rapidly nearing completion at Ogden. This is the first plant of the kind to be established in the intermountain country, there being no plant of the kind between Keokuk, Iowa, and the Pacific coast. The plant is financed entirely by Utah capital, and will have a daily capacity of 200 barrels. Rolled oats, rolled wheat, health graham and self rising pancake flour, corn products, and all lines of cereals manufactured by similar mills, together with all kinds of stock and chicken feed, will make up the product of the new plant which will be in operation about November 1.

The officers of the company are as follows: Matthew S. Browning, president; Gov. Wm. Spry, first vice president; J. A. Hendrickson, second vice president; Angus T. Wright, third vice president; Lon J. Haddock, secretary and manager.

To keep in Utah at least part of the half million dollars that are now being sent out of the state annually for various kinds of breakfast foods has been the controlling motive back of the officers of the Utah Cereal Food Company whose plant is now rapidly nearing completion at Ogden.

Utah made mush, rolled oats, cracked wheat, self rising pancake flour, corn products, and all lines of cereals manufactured by similar mills, together with all kinds of stock and chicken feed, will make up the product of the new plant which will be in operation about November 1.

The new plant occupies a site of nearly three acres in extent and consists of a mill building of brick and stone, four stories and capacitated to turn out 200 barrels daily of wheat, oats and barley products, and is supplemented by a concrete elevator of 50,000 bushels capacity. Over half a million dollars annually is being sent out of Utah for various kinds of mush to say nothing of the additional amount of local money sent away for chicken feed and stock feed and it is to offset this disbursement of Utah money here at home that the above company has been organized.

The company is financed exclusively by Utah capital, the officers of the same being among the best known back of the state. M. S. Browning of Ogden is president of the company; Governor Wm. Spry is first vice president, and the other officers are J. A. Hendrickson, second vice president; Angus T. Wright, third vice president; Lon J. Haddock, secretary and manager.

This is but one of a number of manufacturing enterprises shortly to be inaugurated in the state by local capitalists and is a splendid evidence of the confidence which Utah men of means are manifesting in the future of Utah as a manufacturing center.

Considering the phenomenal success which has followed similar industries established in other sections of the country, the outlook for the new cereal company is of the very brightest. November 1 has been set as the time for beginning operations, and with the ready facilities for securing home grown grains that rank with the very best and considering that the plant is located in what is shortly to become one of the most rapidly growing sections of the United States officials of the company are to be congratulated upon the enterprise which they have shown in the establishment of this—Utah's newest industry.

TOWN GROWTH DUE TO LOYAL TOWN SUPPORT

Lewiston, as Well as Other Towns, Becoming Independent of the Cities

The Cache Valley towns are more and more becoming independent of each other as far as having the advantages of well stocked stores in their own midst, but no more striking is this fact found in any of the towns of the valley than in the town of Lewiston, one of the thriftiest agricultural sections in the west. In Lewiston they are blessed with a bank which carries plenty of money to take care of the farmers and it is offered by men who have the confidence of the community evidenced by the loyal local support the institution is given. Not only are the banking needs taken care of but in all most every other line, the town is pretty well supplied with up to date merchandising stores. The drug store is managed by a graduate pharmacist, Mr. P. B. Van Orden and in a drug way, Lewiston has one of the most modern and best stocked country drug stores to be found in the state.

It is also noticeable that a fully stocked furniture and hardware store is found in thrifty Lewiston. This institution is managed by Mr. E. M. Van Orden, a young man who has grown up in the community in which he is now conducting his business and he is familiar with the needs of the community and carries a stock of hardware and furniture, which attracts the Lewiston residents to make their purchases in these lines at home. He has also familiarized himself with the uses of electricity and is able to do any of the jobs of wiring the new residences as they are erected and is prepared to supply the electrical fixtures as well as any of the larger houses in the state as he is in connection with the largest electrical supply houses in Utah. Mr. Van Orden served an apprenticeship at the General Electric Company in Schenectady, New York, where he obtained a knowledge of general electric engineering.

Since the water works have been installed in the town the hardware store has kept pace with the growth and carries a big stock of hose, lawn mowers, and is prepared to meet the prices found elsewhere on similar commodities, in fact the manager of the Lewiston Hardware and Furniture store says he will take a back seat for no one in his line, either in price or quality of merchandise carried in stock.

FIVE THOUSAND MADE HOMELESS

Many Others Are Marooned in Their Homes, Living on Roofs For Days

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 29.—More than 5000 persons are homeless within a radius of 200 miles of Newport, Ark., and many others marooned in their houses by flood, have been living in upper stories or on roofs for four, five and even six days, it was said here tonight by D. C. Welty agricultural commissioner of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railway.

After a motor boat trip of a week through the flooded section, Mr. Welty reported that he found conditions serious; thousands of acres of rich farm lands under water, heavy loss in live stock and personal property, but apparently there had been no loss of life and refugees were being well cared for in various camps.

Four hundred more inhabitants of the White river valley were added today to the long list of refugees when a levee of the Cache river gave way forming a lake twenty miles square between the Cache and the White.

With federal state and municipal authorities cooperating the sanitary relief and rescue problems occasioned by the flood are said to be well in hand.

Mr. Friday Smith has returned from a delightful trip to Pocatello, Idaho. He made the trip on his motorcycle and reports having had good luck all the way.

FEW LEWISTON FARMERS HAVE GOOD BEET CROP

Rawlins Brothers and Pond Brothers Report Good Yield. Plenty of Moisture Makes the Beets

There are at least a few of the Lewiston farmers who will be disappointed if they do not have a heavy beet crop, despite the fact that we have had very dry weather and many farmers in the northern section of the valley have suffered a shortage in tonnage owing to the extreme drought.

Frank A. Rawlins, dairyman and beet farmer, has a forty acre crop of beets, which will be a good average crop, and parts of this acreage Mr. Rawlins is confident will produce a heavier tonnage per acre than he has ever had on his farm. Harvey M. Rawlins and son Clem L. Rawlins, have a 120 acre crop of beets and aside from about 15 acres, it is as pretty a stand of beets as one would wish to see. Some of the tops stand from two to three feet high and the beets have matured in size in proportion to the tops. Brigham Pond and Martin Pond, have good crops to report. It is said that there is no prettier stand of beets in the whole valley than is found on the A. D. Smith farm. In isolated cases, where there has been plenty of moisture, the sugar beet crop in the Lewiston district is well up to the crops of other years.

Preparations are already being made to haul the beets to the factory. In the eastern part of the town, there is no heavy sand to lug the heavy loads of beets through, but in western Lewiston the sand is deep and straw is now being put on the roads in order to make it possible to haul the beets to the factory.

SEVIER COUNTY FARMERS HAVING TIME OF LIFE

Voted to Continue Trip Until Program Had Been Completed as Outlined

The Sevier county farmers who are making a ten day tour of northern Utah in company with Prof. John T. Caine III, and Lorin A. Merrill, county demonstrator for Sevier county have been in Logan since Saturday. There are forty-five farmers in the party and they are being conveyed about in ten automobiles. They express themselves with having the time of their lives on this trip. So enthused were many of the party, that when some few suggested that they would like to return home Sunday morning and not stay with the crowd while they concluded the program, that some were ready to do mob violence. A meeting was called Sunday morning at the Commercial Club and it was voted that no one return home until the program as originally outlined had been carried out. Many of the farms and dairy herds in Cache county have been inspected. An inspection of the condensed milk factory at Richmond was an interesting feature of the trip. The party was banqueted at the college yesterday afternoon and after a trip thru Box Elder county today the party will leave for home again reaching Sevier county on Wednesday evening.

John T. Horne, manager of the Consolidated Theatre Company is back from his vacation and automobile trip through Idaho. He reports having had a splendid outing.

V. S. AMUSSEN WILL BECOME A LAND MERCHANT

Young Attorney Becomes Manager for New Department Created by George M. Cannon Co

Salt Lake City, Aug. 29.—V. S. Amussen, of this city, son of the late C. C. Amussen, has assumed the management of the newly created business properties and farm and land departments of the George M. Cannon company. Mr. Amussen recently has completed a law course at the Northwestern University and had been offered a membership with a law firm of this city, but because of the recent enlargement of the George M. Cannon company and the fact that he has had considerable experience in the handling of real estate he deemed it advisable to become connected with the real estate firm. Mr. Amussen had charge of the estate of his father and is now managing director of the Amussen Securities company of a local concern.

In regard to the enlargement of the scope of the company, Mr. Amussen stated: "The numerous compliments this city has received in the last few weeks from tourists, members of the American Bar association who were in attendance at the convention and others and the logical position of this city, as well as the patent and latent opportunities existing here, led the George M. Cannon company to enlarge its scope so as to include every phase of the real estate business. People are just beginning to realize some of the many opportunities existing here. In increasing our class of business, the company will handle farm land and business properties."

LAST OF FREE CONCERTS NEXT SATURDAY EVE

Public Has Been Most Appreciative of the Music, and Has Turned Out Well

Saturday night was one of the most successful of the Logan free band concerts in point of public patronage. Main street was thronged with people, many in buggies and automobiles, in fact the vehicles at times were so congested that it was next to impossible for the regular traffic to pass upon the streets in front of the band stand. Next Saturday night will be the last of the season concerts or at least that is the plan at present to dispense with the free concerts at that time, the money available for holding the band members together having been exhausted. The public generally has been very appreciative of the concerts thus far this season and have turned out loyally to enjoy the music. It is to be regretted that we do not have some way to provide means to hold the musicians together at least another month. The Logan business men have been very loyal to the band, however, and it could hardly be asked that they contribute further toward this worthy cause.

If there is any person particularly anxious for any certain overture to be played at the Saturday night concert, they will communicate the fact to Mr. G. B. Alexander, director and the request will be cheerfully granted.

Mrs. T. A. Greenhaigh and daughter Violet returned Friday from a pleasant two week's visit to St. Anthony and Driggs, Idaho.
